"Songs About Shoe People for Shoe People" | 7" | FF-01 Release date: Mar 17, 2003

Foibles - "An inspired and madly intelligent walk through the pop zoo."

Post-indie-pop-acoustic/electric-social commentary.

FOIBLES are this guy Phil who lives in the city of San Francisco. Phil records music in his apartment. Last year Phil was abducted by a race of two-dimensional mood-sherpas known as SHOE PEOPLE. They liked his hair. They wrote songs for him. He later recorded those songs in his apartment. (Phil continues to be tortured daily by SHOE PEOPLE... Please help him.)

Chances are pretty big you haven't heard of the SHOE PEOPLE, and if you have, that you've been served embellished information. Is there a giant conspiracy to keep this knowledge from the common man? Who knows, but for the first time, the truth about SHOE PEOPLE is presented. Learn about school tiredness, wild parties, racing and much more...

Meanwhile, Phil is working on a book entitled "STEEL TOES: the hypocrisy of justice", which will delve into all the different conspiracy theories regarding SHOE PEOPLE and the lack of information.
